Volume III, Issue 24

“You are of your father the devil, and the desires of your father you want to do. He was a murderer from the beginning, and does not stand in the truth, because there is no truth in him. When he speaks a lie, he speaks from his own resources, for he is a liar and the father of it.” (John 8:44)

“Is there anything Barack Obama could do that would be an impeachable offense to this current Congress?” –Dave

It is rightly said that we sin because we are sinners, not the other way around. In other words, we're not sinners because we sin. With this biblical truth in mind, Barack Obama lies because he is a liar. His whole life is a lie. How do I know this? Only a liar falsifies his birth certificate, spends over one million dollars to block any of his personal information from being released.

A liar whose whole life story is based on perpetual falsehood and all success based on that lie, is not only unfit for public office, he is also worthy of public rejection. The list of lies are too numerous to detail in this short place. I encourage you visit the website “Obama Lies” for that exhaustive list.

The first three lies posted there under the “5th year” section are enough to impeach Barack Obama. In the last “The Truth Newsletter,” we outlined how violating the oath of office is a high crime worthy of impeachment and conviction.

Lying about the healthcare debacle is not just an unfortunate misstatement; it was a premeditated lie to keep the truth of the damage to the American economy. Part of his oath of office to protect the US Constitution is to “promote the general Welfare.” This does not mean that government should be providing all with healthcare, which is the sole purpose of ObamaCare.

Lying about the events surrounding the attack on our diplomats in Benghazi, Libya, blaming it on some hard-to-see video, was not caused by “the fog of war.” It was a deliberate lie to protect Mr. Obama during an election year.

Lying about the NSA spying on the media and individuals was not an attempt to protect national security; it was a cover-up of the government’s violation of the First Amendment.

The question is not whether Barack Obama should be impeached; the question is will Congress use those constitutional powers. The answer is no, with the current Congress. This is why we must follow my good friend Alan Keyes’ model for electing members of Congress. I’ll explain further...

FROM THE FOUNDERS

Never before in the history of our country as a charlatan of a man and leader occupied the White House. From his phony birth certificate, to his unknown college years, to his constant lying in office, Barack Obama is the epitome of a feeble Executive.

“A feeble Executive implies a feeble execution of the government. A feeble execution is but another phrase for a bad execution; and a government ill executed, whatever it may be in theory, must be, in practice, a bad government.” Alexander Hamilton, Federalist #70

Random House Dictionary defines feeble as “weak intellectually, or morally.” Collins English Dictionary defines feeble as “easily influence or indecisive.” Both definitions succinctly describe Barack Obama. Mr. Obama is indeed a feeble executive and his administration has spent the last five years incompetently running our country. The case could be made that they’ve succeeded in destroying our republic, which has been the unspoken goal of anti-colonialist Obama.

Either way, Barack Obama and his minions have been destructive to our republic and our Constitution. As a side note, I consider Republicans who voted to fund Obama’s reckless measures as minions.

Congress was rightly given the powers needed to contain a feeble or tyrannical executive and a runaway judiciary. What we have now on Capitol Hill is antithetical to what the Founding Fathers envisioned.

Will Americans finally reach the point where we no longer settle for the ungodly and unrighteous representing us in government? If that day does not come, then our republic shall surely perish.

FROM THE PULPIT

“Men boast of their character for veracity, that their word is never questioned by their fellow men. Are they as careful to keep their word with God, to fulfill every promise and vow to Him? It is a great sin to lie to men. No sin is condemned in the Bible more persistently than falsehood. Liars must be shut out of heaven's gates and shall have their part in the lake that burns with fire and brimstone! But lying unto God is far worse than lying unto men.” J. R. Miller, “The Sin of Lying” sermon, 1909.

To break an oath is to tell a lie. You have sworn that you will uphold the oath, and when you fail to do so, you lie. Either you knowingly lied when you took the oath, knowing full well that you had no intention of fulfilling your obligations, or you found the fulfillment inconvenient or unpopular. Regardless the genesis, the result is still a lie.

This is the current state of our government. Not only do elected officials take oaths of office, but also government employees and members of the military take an oath of service. Whenever we fail to fulfill our oath, we are living a falsehood.

When you look up the word falsehood, the fourth definition found in the Random House Dictionary is contextually correct: “lack of conformity to truth or fact.” If our government is filled with people who fail to abide by their sworn oaths, then they are not conforming to truth or fact.

We have a man in the White House, along with his closest advisors, who not only does not conform to the truth or facts of his oath of office, but he also contorts lies and fiction and attempts to fashion it as truth. The level of absurdity of his brazen lies is multiplied by impotence of Congress.

However, in the end the responsibility of our government rests with WE the People. Our republic has been fashioned that the citizens get the last say in government. This becomes an ever greater challenge the longer Congress fails to act and the government grows. Nevertheless we still can rescue our republic if we so desire. Abraham Lincoln once said:

We the people are the rightful masters of both Congress and the courts, not to overthrow the Constitution but to overthrow the men who pervert the Constitution.

To overthrow the men who pervert the Constitution, the citizenry must have the ability to identify such perversion. Truth can no longer be defined by society; it has been defined by God and exemplified in the life of Jesus Christ. It is time to return to that standard.

TO THE STREETS

We are 11 months away from the mid-term elections. Much hope is resting upon returning both houses of Congress back to Republican control. Should that happen, then Mitch McConnell will be the new Senate Majority Leader and John Boehner will remain as Speaker of the House. Both men are miserable failures as leaders of their caucuses and have a long record of lying to the public. If true change is to come to Congress, there must be a change of leadership at the top. Here are some suggestions to bring about that change:

1. Please consider supporting Matt Bevin for Senate in Kentucky. He is a viable, conservative alternative to Mitch McConnell.
2. I am working closely with contacts in Ohio to come up with a viable primary opponent in John Boehner's 8th Ohio Congressional District. One candidate has announced his intent to oppose Boehner, but it is too early to call for supporting him. Standby as the situation develops and any information I receive I will pass onto each of you so you can share it.
3. Be sure your own US Representative is performing his or her constitutional duties as required. Often times an incumbent House member over stays his or her welcome in Washington and morphes into what they first went there to change. If that is the case, be sure to work on finding and then supporting a viable alternative candidate.
4. I highly encourage you to join the National Federation of Republican Assemblies (NFRA). We are an organization committed to electing Reagan Republicans to party offices. The Party controls the money and the current leaders have failed.
5. Lastly and most importantly, return to the Word of God, the Holy Bible. The NFRA Statement of Principles confirm our Judeo-Christian foundation and believes "in the guiding force of moral law as expressed by the Judeo-Christian ethic and contained in the Holy Scriptures of these historic faiths." We need to "know our Bibles" as my pastor is wont to say.

If we don't take the last step first, then the other steps will be unsuccessful. We must develop a biblical worldview to understand the true meaning of liberty.
