“Woe to him who builds his house by unrighteousness and his chambers by injustice.” (Jeremiah 22:13a)

“You only oppose voter ID laws for one reason. You want to steal the vote. Even third world countries require voter identification to cast a ballot. So should the US.” –Dave you get the government you deserve is never better applied than to protecting voter integrity. Voter fraud is the antithesis of voter integrity and the only antidote for voter fraud is voter ID laws.

To oppose voter ID laws is to oppose voter integrity. Space does not allow the different motivations behind voter fraud, but the number one reason has to be stealing an election(s). Accusations of racism and voter intimidation as the reason behind voter ID laws are red herrings. Opponents of voter ID laws know that huge inroads will be made in ending voter fraud if picture identification is required at polling stations.

Senator Rand Paul's assertion that voter ID is offensive to people is nonsensical. I would like to meet one person who is offended by insisting voters produce a picture ID and ask them what is offensive about it.

WE the People are responsible for the government we get. The old cliché of

If it is offensive to be asked for a picture ID when going to the voting booth, why is it not offensive to be asked for an ID when pulled over by a policeman, or boarding an airplane, or cashing a check? Why is it not offensive for poor people to be asked for a picture ID before they receive their welfare electronic benefit transfer (EBT) card?

I have no doubt that Senator Paul not only wants to see Republican majorities in both houses of Congress, but also would like to win the presidency in 2016 should he decide to run. I would imagine that he would be outraged if he lost by a small margin because of voter fraud.

If we are going to save our republic, then we can no longer give in to the intimidation tactics of the Left. Statists have long been employing Saul Alinsky's fifth rule for radicals: “Ridicule is man's most potent weapon.” We must stand up against voter fraud and not cower at the Left's baseless attacks.

Rand Paul may think he can be double-minded on this issue, but if you support voter ID laws then the issue needs to be front and center.

FROM THE FOUNDERS

To imagine the Founding Fathers would have allowed voting without proof of citizenship is to engage in delusional thinking. Nothing could be further from the Truth. In fact, the Founders did not want non-property owners to vote because of the mess we are in today. However, they knew citizens should have the right to vote. Showing a picture ID is not asking too much of voters.

“The right of suffrage is a fundamental Article in Republican Constitutions. The regulation of it is, at the same time, a task of peculiar delicacy. Allow the right exclusively to property, and the rights of persons may be oppressed. The feudal polity alone sufficiently proves it. Extend it equally to all, and the rights of property or the claims of justice may be overruled by a majority without property, or interested in measures of injustice. Of this abundant proof is afforded by other popular Govts and is not without examples in our own, particularly in the laws impairing the obligation of contracts.” James Madison, Federal Convention of 1787, from his “Speech on the Right of Suffrage.”

There are no viable excuses for opposing voter IDs. It is a ploy by the Left to once again put conservatives on the defensive (which is working with Rand Paul), and to obfuscate the real issue at hand: voter integrity.

Democrats are invested in stealing elections. From the salacious Secretary of State Project, to open voter fraud, and many other attempts to stuff the ballot box, liberals know that the only guarantee for election night victory is to defraud the electorate.

Liberals know that their failed policies are no longer acceptable to the large majority of the electorate. They lie about their intentions, falsely accuse Republicans of voter intimidation through voter ID laws, and when all else fails, they cheat.

They are to be loathed. They are to be publicly condemned. They need to be put on the defensive and called what they truly are: vote thieves. A little of their own medicine will go a long way.

FROM THE PULPIT

“The government, early established in the world among the ancient Hebrews, was a free republic like ours, the sovereignty resided in the body of the people. They were to choose able men; and they were called to give their assent to the laws given from Heaven, before they were put into execution. When government is thus founded, according to the divine mind, and rulers chosen, they become representatives of the power and majesty of God; and important instruments employed by his providence and grace, in the administration of affairs in this lower world.” The Reverend Daniel Foster, from his election sermon, May 26, 1790.

Voting is the most sacred act we perform as citizens of the United States. All we who call ourselves Christians will give an account for whom we chose to be our leaders. The responsibility to put only godly men and women in public office was established long ago:

“Moreover you shall select from all the people able men, such as fear God, men of truth, hating covetousness; and place such over them to be rulers of thousands, rulers of hundreds, rulers of fifties, and rulers of tens.” (Exodus 18:20)

If we allow our elections to be stolen for fear of being called a racist or accused of voter intimidation, then we deserve to lose this great nation. I for one am not going to stand by and watch our blessed union be ripped apart by liars and thieves. Anyone who would allow a thief to plunder their home before their very eyes is a coward. So it is with the citizen willing to standby and watch our country be plundered by liberals who seek only to maintain political power at all costs.

The tactics of the Left have been exposed. We know their intentions are to steal elections. They have in the past and they will continue to until WE the People stop them. To do otherwise is to sin:

“For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ, that each one may receive the things done in the body, according to what he has done, whether good or bad.” (2 Corinthians 5:10)

I don't know about you, but when I stand before the Bema Seat of Christ, I do not want to have to explain to my Lord why I allowed evil to continue when I had a way to oppose it. Turn the page to learn some of those ways.

TO THE STREETS

Contrary to what Senator Paul might say, we need to make voter integrity an election issue. It needs to be front and center during every election. We can never assume our vote is being protected; we must take vigilant action to ensure it is being protected. There are a lot of great organizations involved in voter integrity that we can support and steps we can take as citizens. Here are some suggestions:

1. Please visit my dear friend Sharron Angle's website OurVoice Pac and give any small amount you can to help her out in Nevada.
2. Another great website is Truth the Vote. We know it is an effective and intimidating website to the Left and the Obama Administration because they were targeted by the IRS. This is by far the number one voter integrity website in America. Please join and support Catherine Engelbrecht and her great organization defeat voter fraud once and for all.
3. Another great website on voting integrity is the National Committee on Voting Integrity. I've just discovered this organization and the information provided there looks promising. Give them a visit.
4. Because many of our politicians are squishy and swayed by public opinion, be sure to share with your members of Congress this poll just out today showing that 70% (as in 7 out of 10) registered voters are in favor of voter ID laws.
5. Check with your county election supervisor and find out what kind of voter ID laws they have (or do not have) in your county. If they are wanting, then YOU can begin the process to bring voter ID laws to your county and state. If not you, then who? I can think of no one better suited for the job than a Truth Watcher.

It is up to WE the People to stop election fraud and to stand up to the Left's bully tactics and let them know that their time is through.

We need to throw out of office any elected official who does not support voter ID laws. We must never settle for anything less. It is time to take back our electoral process. Our government is ordained by us and they answer to us.
